Why do the Bountiful Bosoms Cleavage Tops list a range of sizes, but you don't let me choose a bigger Cup size?

This is because our Bountiful Bosoms Cleavage Tops have been designed around 1 of 2 physical volume of breast. We spend months getting a version of the top to look and move just right. This means that by only changing a few details, we are able to supply multiple band sizes with the same beautiful breasts! BUT since Cup Size is relative to Band Size each band size of Cleavage Top is a different Cup Size... even though they are the same size breasts (in shape and volume).

Why do my Bosoms seem to "sweat" when I leave them for a few weeks?

Your Bosoms become wet and slippery over long periods of time because the excess silicone oil from their manufacture has finally worked it's way out of the material. This is ok and normal. Simply wash them with mild soap and warm water. I'm only human and trying to get mg amounts of materials exact is near impossible. This "sweat" is the few milligrams of oil extra in our material mix. It only looks like alot because oil spreads out so easily and thinly. It's completely Non-Toxic and actually a great skin conditioner.

My Breast Forms are Sticky, how do I fix this?

Our breast forms might arrive sticky on all surfaces. If you wish to "remove" the sticky feeling from them, just lightly powder the surface with either Baby Powder or Pressed Powder Foundation. This will stop them from being sticky.

Can I order a single Breast Form?

Yes, go to our Mastectomy Section of our Shop for Single Form Ordering.

Do Bountiful Bosom Forms have a curved back to allow for existing Breast Tissue?

No, but we have found that they are so soft that it's not an issue. They mould easily to even well developed chests (full A Cups). If you have more breast tissue then that... we suggest using our Breast Forms as Enhancers and putting what you have to great use!

Are Bountiful Bosom Breast Forms Attachable?

No, we have scrapped plans on making them attachable in favour of a better solution... Our Cleavage Tops!

I hear that Silicone Gel doesn't react well with Latex... Does this affect your products?

Yes... Prolonged exposure to Latex will damage our products. And the Latex Products as well.
